

2023 FLASCO CORPORATE PARTNER PROGRAM

Thank you for your continued support of the Florida Society of Clinical Oncology. As a FLASCO Corporate Partner, your organization is part of a dedicated and passionate network of oncology professionals. At each level of partnership, your sponsorship allows FLASCO to provide valuable educational offerings to our members and their staff, engage in advocacy on behalf of the oncology community and the patients our members serve, support awareness, knowledge, and access to clinical trials, and the latest in oncology innovation. FLASCO exists for a powerful mission; work to raise the overall standard of oncology practice.

As a FLASCO Corporate Partner, your organization is among leaders in the field of oncology representing many areas of expertise. The enhanced levels of Corporate Partnership allows FLASCO to expand its offerings to our membership and provide each Corporate Partner with the opportunity to educate our members. When your organization sends representatives to a FLASCO meeting, those representatives are receiving the same knowledge as our members. This helps ensure that the hematology and oncology community at large is learning, sharing best practices, and finding solutions together. It is important to note that Corporate Partnership levels provide expanded interaction with FLASCO members. These interactions are intended and required to be purely educational in context. Our members look to our Corporate Partners for information and knowledge on issues impacting cancer care from a state, national, and global perspective. FLASCO maintains a strict policy of independence from corporate and commercial influences, such as those related to specific companies, products, or services.

The Florida Society of Clinical Oncology (FLASCO) maintains a strict policy of independence from corporate and commercial influences, such as those related to specific companies, products, or services. The FLASCO Board of Directors strictly enforces this policy. Participation in the Corporate Partners program does not influence any of FLASCO's policies, positions, or endeavors. Fundamentally, everything that FLASCO does is driven by our mission to provide education and engage in advocacy, support awareness, and work to raise the overall standard of oncology practice. The FLASCO team will strive to deliver all benefits to the highest quality. All submitted content will be reviewed and approved by FLASCO leadership. All FLASCO meetings are subject to change per FLASCO leadership availability. FLASCO meetings and other applicable benefits will be delivered through face-to-face or a virtual format when necessary.
